Hightower Loses Randall, But Wins District; Granberry Okayed

While the remainder of the nation went predominantly with Democrats Tuesday, Randall County voters showed their Republican tendency by casting ballots for the GOP virtually across the board.

U.S. Rep. Bob Price of Pampa, defeated in his bid for another term in office by State Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon, carried Randall County by a 10 per cent margin.

Lubbock Republican Jim Granberry, unsuccessful statewide in downing Gov. Dolph Briscoe, also took Randall County by an 8 per cent spread.

Republicans also won offices at the local level. Price, who'd served eight years in Congress, polled 6848 votes in Randall County for 50.15 per cent of the vote. Hightower, who won big in counties in the lower part of the 13th District, carried 5482 voters in Randall County for 40.16 per cent of the total vote cast.

Voting was light in the county

$22,000 In Jewelry Is Taken Here

More than $22,000 worth of Indian turquoise and silver jewelry totalling more than 500 pieces were taken by daring day-light burglars Sunday morning from the Goodnight Trading Post in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Deputy Cecil Johnson said burglars hit about 11:30 a.m. at the trading post. The sheriff's office was notified of the burglary through the remote alarm system.

Upon arriving at the scene, Johnson and owner Jozach Byrd found burglars had gained entry into the small trading post through a window broken on the south end of the building.

The retail shop was closed at the time of the burglary.

Rings were found scattered on the floor of the shop by deputies. Johnson said the burglars "knew what they were doing — all they got was the good stuff and they left the cheap stuff."

Johnson said he currently has no suspects in custody and few leads in the case.

The deputy speculates that the burglars had been in the store before during operating hours to set up the theft.

Among items missing were a coral and turquoise squash blossom necklace valued at $790; a turquoise and silver squash blossom necklace valued at $675; a necklace of turquoise and silver worth $550; two silver squash necklaces worth $265 each; a singer water bird inlay necklace worth $395; and 10 trays of ladies silver rings with the 350 rings

Downtown Park Lot Seen As Possibility

The possibility of using the southeast corner of the downtown square for expanded parking facilities for retail establishments was revealed Monday night at the regular session of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce board.

President John Childs said he has conducted discussions with representatives of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., owner of two lots just east of Dan's 5th Ave. shop on the square, about the possibility of leasing the land to the chamber for parking facilities.

The phone company has announced plans to construct a building on the lot at some future time.

"There are only two hang-ups on the thing," Childs said. "Who'll pay for it? And who'll pave it?"

Childs said the company has not listed a firm lease price for the lot.

"I've always heard we need additional parking on the square," Childs said. "I think this would help."

In other business, directors discussed ticket sales for the upcoming chamber banquet which features as speaker Dr. Hartisl Wilson.

Theme for the banquet, Childs said, is patriotism.

The annual affair is set for Feb. 15 on the West Texas State University campus.

Discussion also centered on rejuvenation of the chamber's red carpet committee. The women's division of the chamber has a similar committee.

Childs reminded the members of the upcoming election of new board members. The ballots for the election, mailed to all chamber members last week, are to be returned by Nov. 20.

The new directors will take office Jan. 1, but will participate in the election of new chamber officers next month.

for the Tuesday balloting. Registered voters total 31,068 for the election but only 13,552 persons went to the polls for 43.9 per cent.

In the state gubernatorial race,

Granberry polled 49 per cent of the vote in the county while Briscoe carried 41 per cent.

Bill Hobby, incumbent lieutenant governor, carried the county with 50 per cent of the vote while Republican challenger Gaylord Marshall tallied 41 per cent.

Another Republican, Robert G. Holt, challenging long-time incumbent Jesse James, carried the county with 54 per cent of the vote. James polled 42 per cent.

Democrat Bob Simpson, an Amarillo attorney, upset Republican businessman John Kenehan for the contested state representative slot in the county.

Simpson polled 8128 votes for 59 per cent while Kenehan had 5143 votes for 37 per cent.

Democrat Bryan Poff, Canyon

attorney who won his bid for the bench of the 47th District Court, beat opponent Connally Lockhart by almost a two-to-one margin in the county. Poff received 8454 votes for 61 per cent while Lockhart took 4935 votes for 36 per cent.

County Clerk LeRoy Hutton, a Republican, was returned to office with 7141 votes. He beat Charles Hogan, a Democrat, who polled 5854 votes.

Robert E. McClendon, an Amanillo-Canyon attorney, won his bid for county treasurer by downing Republican school teacher Marty Schantz. McClendon took 7100 votes for 52 per cent while Mrs. Schantz had 5760 votes for 42 per cent. McClendon had campaigned little, but had stressed he hopes to abolish the office.

In county commissioner races, John Fulgenzi, a Republican, retained his seat as representative of Precinct 2. Fulgenzi won a squeaker against Democrat Otha Barbee. The Republican polled 2517 votes while Barbee had 2215.

Another Republican, Dee Griffin Sr., beat Democrat Bill Moore, for the seat of Precinct 4 on the county commission. Griffin tallied 1733 votes compared to 1343 for Moore.

Results of the election indicate Price carried the large metropolitan precincts in Amarillo, precincts traditionally Republican while Hightower carried the more rural areas.

Hightower carried two of four of the predominantly Canyon precincts in the balloting.

He carried precinct five by a six per cent margin, tallying 276 votes to Price's 242. He also carried precinct six by an eight per cent margin with 473 votes compared to Price's 404.

Price carried precinct seven with 47 per cent of the vote, and precinct 23 with 53 per cent.

Poff, Hutton and Simpson all carried the Canyon precincts by wide margins.

FU Pres. Wants Aid For Farms

The president of a state-wide farm organization called Monday night on the leaders of all farm groups to meet and formulate "battle plans to combat the crisis situation facing agricultural producers."

Jay Naman, president of the Farmers Union in Texas, said farm organizations must present a unified front to the current government administration or agriculture will face a depression "in a very short time."

Naman spoke Monday night to local members of the Farmers Union in the Randall County courthouse.

"If agriculture fails to provide a unified front to this administration, it will continue its 'do-nothing' policies which in the end will spell financial ruin for the producers of food and fiber," he said.

"President Ford last week displayed how uninformed or misinformed he is on the crisis facing livestock and dairy producers by saying he might take action to halt imports if the situation worsens," he warned. "The situation is so critical now that producers are going out of business and consumers will be facing increasing shortages and higher prices for meat and dairy products."

Legal Machinery Moving On CISD Annexation Case

The legal machinery began grinding this week in Canyon and in Austin as the principles in the Canyon School District land annexation controversy began preparing their cases to present to the state commissioner of education.

Official notification that the appeal by the Canyon School District has reached Austin came this week in a letter from the legal counsel for the Texas Education Agency.

The letter to R. B. Gist Jr., chairman of the Randall County Board of School Trustees, outlined procedures for the appeal route and asked that that body present its information gathered during the recent controversy to the commissioner of education.

The Canyon School Board declared its appeal of the school trustee decision three weeks ago after the trustees okayed the detachment of 176 acres of land from the Canyon School District and annexation of that land into Amarillo's district.

The state commissioner will hear the first appeal of the decision. He's expected to call a public hearing in Austin on the appeal within the next 30 days.

Canyon School Attorney Elton

Allen Henderson, computer operator for West Texas State University, manipulates the machine to give results of the Tuesday general election in Randall County. The county ballots are now counted by the new computer system on campus.

Austin Trip Fri. To Talk Lawsuit

City Manager George Louder and City Attorney Elton Cox will be in Austin Friday to meet with officials of the Texas Municipal Retirement System to discuss possible legal action from a long-time Canyon employee over a charge that the TMRS discriminates against women.

Louder said he and Cox will meet with Dean Gorman, executive director of the retirement system, and the system's counsel to define areas of responsibility and liability in connection with the possible suit.

Mrs. Marguerite Strain, a city employee 28 years, has the option of filing a civil lawsuit against both the city and the retirement system, alleging both discriminate against women in the payment of monthly retirement benefits.

Mrs. Strain, who turned 65 years of age on Oct. 7, has said she hesitates to sue the city. But, she also hesitates to allow her case to drop because it could impact on thousands of other Texas employees.

The federal Equal Employment Opportunity office in San Antonio has informed Mrs. Strain by letter this week that attempts to reconcile her charge with the city and the TMRS has failed. They

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Bryan Poff has not only won the 47th District Court bench but he has also proved himself a master politician.

Poff carried normally Republican Randall County by a margin of 62 per cent to 37 per cent in a race in which Watergate undoubtedly had little or no impact.

True many will say he rode a Democratic sweep but the margin of his victory indicates that Jack Hightower profited from the Poff landslide rather than the other way around.

Bob Price beat Hightower in Randall by 50-40 so Poff was riding nobody's coat tails and the kingmakers who have thumbed noses at him in the past had better listen when the new district judge from Canyon has something to say.

Simply because of the Republican flavor of North Randall County I had thought the vote would be closer but Poff had put together a superb organization mostly of interested, polite housewives who campaigned hard but with such nicety that they antagonized almost no one in their bid for votes for their candidate.

Poff, 35, is very young for a district judge but remember he's been around the legislature and in public life for some time. He'll be a mature 39 with four years on the bench behind him by 1978 and with a good record unbeatable in a second term bid.

He has a charming wife, Linda, who likes politics, especially on the state level. Judge Poff will be only 43 with eight years as judge under his belt by the time campaigning begins in 1982.

I look to hear more from Judge Poff and I predict that he is going to want something more than judge in front of his name in the future.

If the young judge unselfishly seeks justice and the good of his constituency, how high is up?

I was critical of Jack Hightower for what I considered lack of depth discussion of the gut issues in the campaign.

But Hightower has already proved one thing. He knows more about politics than I do.

Unless he dies, quits or commits some unspeakable crime, Jack will be around a long time. My sincere prayer is that he will be effective.

His dedication to this country and this area is unquestionable. He too is a young man and in the majority party and given the seniority system he is destined to be a powerful man in the distant future if he is patient and things go well with him.

He must remember that this is a conservative area and will not tolerate a congressman who represents ultra liberal views. But I think Jack knows this as I have already conceded that he certainly knows more about politics than I do.

The chances for great political influence for this area have never been better — two young judges with moxie and political know how on our two district court benches, a young and vigorous congressman, and a speaker of the Texas House in the person of Billy Wayne Clayton who lives 60 miles away at Springlake. And don't forget our young State Senator Max Sherman whose influence is becoming greater by the day in Texas politics.

This area can play a key role in shaping the future of the state and nation if we have the will and gumption to do it.

Proper Management Of Waterways Urged

Don Dolle, soil conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service in Canyon, reminds area residents that a well managed waterway can be some of the most important acres on their farms.

Since a waterway may be the foundation to a good "conservation plan" it is important to manage it so it will not be a source of erosion and in return be useful for limited grazing or occasional haying according to Dolle.

Cost-sharing is now available for waterways and numerous other conservation practices through the Great Plains Conservation Program administered by the Soil Conservation Service or the Rural Environmental Conservation Program available through the ASCS. For further details contact the soil conservation office in Canyon at 1304 13th St.

German Sausage Feast Is Sunday At Umbarger

A 'feast' of German Sausage, fresh cabbage sauerkraut, and home-baked hot bread are in store for all citizens who attend the 22nd annual German Sausage Festival to be held at Umbarger's St. Mary's Parish Hall Sunday, November 10.

The serving lines will be open from 11 a.m. through 4 p.m. with the dinner tickets selling at $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for children under 12. Preschoolers will be served at no charge, according to festival chairmen, John Beckman and Jim Skarke.

Sausage for the traditional feast will be prepared today, Thursday, under the guidance of R. E. Friemel and John Wiek. Sauerkraut is presently aging in the basement of the parish hall and totals 280 gallons which were prepared for aging back in September with chairmen, Carl Hartman and Ben Koch, keeping check on its progress for the past few weeks.

Sunday's dinner will be prepared by numerous community residents with head cooks including Mrs. Leonard Batenhorst, Mrs. Darroll Adams, Mrs. Tom Sanford and Mrs. Vincent Meyers, Jr. In charge of the serving line will be Susan Lindemann.

The festival serving line will be open until 4 p.m. and those attending the affair will have the opportunity to view a number of craft items and home-baked pastries which will be for sale throughout the day in the "bazaar" and the "country store." Serving as bazaar chairmen are Reba Raef and Olie Wiek with the country store being prepared by Mollie Bracht.

Festivities of the day will be rounded out with a dance from 8:30 p.m. to midnight featuring music by the 'Young Country Sounds.'

Students Being Sought For Early Childhood Ed Program

Plans for an early childhood education program are in action in the Canyon Schools and an attempt is currently underway to identify three, four and five-year old children with handicapping conditions that might qualify them for enrollment in the program.

According to Jerry J. Yows, director of special services at Rex Reeves Elementary, the inauguration of the program will commence "when and if a sufficient number of students can be located in the community."

Parents who have, or think they have a child with a disability that falls under one of a categorized list of handicapping conditions, are being asked to contact Yows at Rex Reeves within the next two weeks.

Among the handicapping conditions for which remedial sessions will be offered will be language or learning disability, orthopedic or crippling handicap, "educable mentally retarded" (low intellectual development), speech and hearing handicaps (abnormality in speech or hearing causing problems with articulation, rhythm, voice or oral language) and emotionally disturbed (pupils whose emotional condition is medically and/or psychologically determined to be such that they cannot be adequately educated in the regular classroom).

Remedial sessions will be conducted both on a group, classroom basis as well as individual sessions in the home of each student.

Yows, who stresses the importance of early remedial training for children possessing handicapping conditions, says he hopes to arrange individual conference sessions with parents and prospective students for the new program within the next few weeks.

Control Of Predators To Be Eyed

Livestock producers can learn best methods of predatory animal and rodent control next Wednesday.

The information will be presented in a meeting at 2 p.m. at the Fairview Community west of Claude.

Specialists from Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service and from the Predatory Animal Control Service will present the information.

This educational meeting is being arranged by John Brazzil and Bo Wheeler, county extension agents of Randall and Armstrong counties.

Several livestock producers have reported losses of calves and sheep to predatory animals. Many of the tools once available for control are now restricted. New methods and procedures will be explained.

Some land owners are interested in organizing a cooperative neighborhood control program.

Everyone interested in this subject is invited. Primary emphasis will be on coyotes, but some control measures for prairie dogs will be covered.

The Nov. 13 meeting will be held in the Fairview Community center on farm road 1151, west of Claude and near the Randall-Armstrong county line.

Annex Decision Due Nov. 14

Randall County commissioners will make a decision next week on whether to authorize construction of a new courthouse annex in South Amarillo.

Commissioners are to meet Nov. 14 to review bids turned in Monday by six construction firms for the construction project. Amarillo Architect Art Vaughan is to review the bids and present the low bidder on that date.

"They'll be either allowed or rejected on the 14th day of this month," County Judge Woody Pond told the contractors.

The county commissioners in early fall rejected all bids for construction of the annex. The bids at that time came in near the $650,000 range.

Bids opened Monday hovered near the $570,000 range.

Apparent low bidder is Panhandle Engineers and Contractors of Amarillo with a bid of $564,000.

Other bidders and their base prices were Tom Badrow, $568,785; Wiley Hicks, Jr., $569,360; Page and Wirtz, $576,590; Ramey Construction, $571,200; and E. P. Taylor, $577,780.

The bids presented and opened

Monday appear to be within the range the commissioners had projected. They okayed recently the issuance of $600,000 in certificates of obligation to fund the construction.

In the early planning of the project, commissioners had vowed to spend only $300,000 for the project, with that funding to come from federal revenue sharing funds.

Now, apparently, the county will spend its revenue sharing funds on the project and also go for a 10-year indebtedness to pay off the certificates of obligation. County Financial Advisor Bob Davis has agreed the obligation could cause a rise in taxes for county residents.

Currently, the county has only a projected $225,000 income from federal revenue sharing.

The bids opened Monday are for a project of somewhat smaller scope than originally planned by the county, which ran head-on into legal problems with its first concept.

The new annex will house only the office of the tax assessor-collector, but will be large enough to house a justice of the peace office and courtroom, and sheriff's deputies offices.

The latter facilities were removed from the construction proposal after Dist. Atty. George Dowlen told commissioners it would be illegal to house the JP and sheriff in the new facility.

Commissioners have instructed Dowlen to prepare legislation to propose to the legislature which meets beginning in January.

Spelling Bee Preparations Begin

The 1975 county spelling bee director will be Mrs. Clarissa Thomas, secretary for the County Judge's office of Randall County.

Although the county bee dates have not been set, the county winners in the junior and senior divisions will be advanced to the 27th annual Regional Spelling Bee which is co-sponsored by the Amarillo Globe-News and West Texas State University.

The regional bee has been set for April 26, 1975 at the Stephen F. Austin Junior High School and will be an elimination contest for county winners from 46 counties including 29 from the Texas Panhandle, 10 from Oklahoma, 4 in New Mexico and 3 in Kansas. Regional Bee winner in the senior division will receive an expense paid trip for the National Spelling Bee in Washington D. C. next June and will also receive an expense paid trip for a chaperon.

School students who will not have reached his or her 16th birthday or gone beyond the eighth grade at the end of the current school term are eligible for the county competition senior division.

The Amarillo Globe-News-WTSU sponsored Regional Bee is unique in that an opportunity for elementary grade students to compete is included for boys and girls in the sixth grades and lower as a junior division.

"Words of the Champions," a booklet preparing students for the bee eliminations, is annually prepared by the National Spelling Bee and are available from the Spelling Bee Editor, Amarillo Globe-News, P. O. Box 2091, Amarillo, Texas 79166 at a cost of 25 cents per booklet.

Further information on the spelling bee may be obtained from the county bee director, Mrs. Thomas.

Joint Art Show Set

A joint exhibit of works by members of the art faculties of West Texas State University and Amarillo College is now on display through Dec. 1 at the Amarillo Art Center, according to Dr. Emilio Caballero, chairman of the WTSU art department.

Representing the WTSU art department in the exhibit are Darold Dean Smith, Dr. Marion Galvin, Dr. Emilio Caballero, David Rindlbacher, Jerri Warren and Margaret Campbell of the faculty, and student assistants Billie Holley, Joyce Boston and Robert Thomas. David Rindlbacher, faculty coordinator for the event, indicated that the WTSU exhibit includes works in such mediums as macrame, three-dimensional ceramics, clay items in sculptural form and pottery, collagraphy, collages and mixed medias, as well as the traditional oil and water color paintings.

"The joint exhibit is always quite stimulating," Rindlbacher said, "because the two schools have different points of view. There is such an interest in art in this area, and many local artists have studied either with members of the Amarillo College or the WTSU art faculty. The show usually arouses some discussion as to the divergent philosophies of art exhibited by the two schools," Rindlbacher concluded.

urged her to consult legal aid concerning the possibility of filing suit against the two entities.

Loudder said the attorneys will meet in Austin to discuss the responsibilities of each entity should Mrs. Strain file suit.

"The question now before Mrs. Strain and one we feel we need to help her with, is whether she should sue or whether she should not sue," the city manager said. The meeting will be an effort to obtain information for Mrs. Strain, he said.

Loudder said the case will be reviewed with TMRS officials, who have adamantly refused to change their retirement benefit system, and an attempt will be made to see what liability the city would have should suit be filed.

He said answers need to be given to questions involving who will defend the two entities in case of suit and who would be liable for possible damages.

The city manager said he feels after preliminary investigation that there is a way for the suit to be filed without encumbering the city.

Mrs. Strain has indicated she has no qualms about suing the TMRS, which has likewise indicated a suit will be the only way it will change its system.

More than two years ago, Mrs. Strain charged that the TMRS discriminates against women by paying men greater benefits on a monthly basis.

The TMRS claims that women live five years longer than men and thus their system is equitable.

The EEOC in Washington found officially that the system does discriminate.

an oral statement to The News a month ago indicated he opposes revenue sharing.

"Because I have seen the importance of this landmark legislation in revitalizing state and local governing units, I have joined asco-sponsor to extend the State and Local Fiscal Assistance Act of 1972 for seven years past the expiration date on June 30, 1976," Tower wrote.

"The revenue sharing program has revitalized state and local governing units and should be division annexed by Amarillo. Cox said trustee action allowing the annexation of the full subdivision amounts to a circumvention of the spirit if not the letter of state law on the subject.

The law does not include a provision on how much land petitioners may seek to annex, and Cox said there is apparently no court case involving a situation like the one in the Canyon district.

The precedent set by the trustees in allowing the full subdivision to be detached will be keyed on, Cox said of his appeal. He said it is not beyond reality to predict that the owner of a full section of land might construct a handful of houses and then have the homeowners petition to have the entire section detached from the Canyon district.

"I think the contentions of the families living there and the developer are wrong for several reasons," Cox said, indicating his reasons will also be parts of his appeal effort.

"For one thing, on transportation to the Canyon schools, the children will have to be transported one way or another to the Amarillo schools," he said. "There is no question the students are getting a quality education in Canyon schools. And, four, if this detachment and annexation is allowed to stand it will establish a precedent eventually leading to additional detachment of territory, thus weakening the Canyon School District to the extent it will not be able to provide a quality education for all its students."

approved as soon as possible to allow time for them to make their budgetary decisions."

Tower says "extension of this vital legislation is imperative. It returns money, power and decision-making to state and local governing units."

Price will not return to Washington next January, but his letter indicates he was undecided on the extension of the revenue sharing program, which has brought more than a million dollars into Canyon and Randall County.

"As I am sure you know," Price writes, "at the present time there is no legislation pending within the Congress to extend the Dec. 31, 1976 expiration date for revenue sharing. However, should such measure be introduced, I will keep the comments of the Canyon city commission in mind."

In a resolution passed a month ago, the city commissioners expressed their backing of the federal program.

In other business during their regular session Monday night, commissioners discussed with Southwestern Public Service Co. Canyon manager Joe Gidden a proposed franchise agreement for that company.

Several areas of disagreement were noted, particularly one section of the franchise proposed by City Manager George Loudder which calls for the company to pay a three percent rather than a two percent rental fee to the city.

Loudder noted several other cities are charging the three percent fee. Gidden noted, though, that the company will simply pass the extra one percent on to local consumers.

The city manager was instructed to gather more information on that possibility and further discussion of the document, which extends SWPS' franchise for another 15 years, will be continued at the next commission meeting.

In other business, commissioners approved payment of $45,000 in certificates of obligation for construction of the new city hall facility.

They also okayed a rezoning request for a portion of Hunsley Hills.

missioners. "Mr. (Jim) Fletcher (county commissioner) is the only man in that part of town who's shown any concern. The People in city hall are not amenable to the will of the people."

Fletcher made the motion to pass a hastily written resolution which noted the county's opposition to the landfill site. The resolution is to be sent the Texas Air Quality Board, the Texas Water Quality Board, the Environmental Protection Agency, and the Texas Department of Health.

Pond indicated Tuesday he's already fired off a copy of the resolution to the health department.

Passage of the resolution met with applause from the crowd in the commissioners courtroom.

Hale also presented to commissioners specific objections to the landfill site, and proposals for other possible sites.

Among the reasons for objection listed were possible devaluation of property, a halt to growth to the southeast of Amarillo, the possibility of a health hazard, and traffic problems connected with the site.

The citizens group proposed the city locate two dump grounds, one east of Amarillo near the Texaco Refinery and another south of Randall County Feedyards.

The other action taken Monday by commissioners which could impact on the relationship between Randall County and Amarillo was formation of the fire study committee. Commissioner Paul Lindsey was appointed to head the committee, which consists of the county sheriff, the fire captain and fire chief of Canyon, fire chief of Amarillo, Lake Tanglewood, Happy, Umbarger and Bushland.

Lindsey made the proposal for the formation of the committee and suggested the committee produce an organized approach to rural fire protection for outlying areas of the county.

The committee is to become a permanent committee in the county under the proposal.

The News learned this week of some of the ideas which might be posed to the fire study committee, ideas which would increase the participation of the City of Canyon if adopted.

One idea which might be broached with the committee calls for Canyon to assume responsibility for fighting fires in the rural areas of the county, including that area now handled by Amarillo north of Hollywood Road.

Canyon would then coordinate the fire fighting efforts in the rural areas.

ducts in the near future."

Naman said in a News interview before the meeting here that cattle producers are now feeling the heaviest crunch of the cost-price squeeze with costs accelerating at a rapid rate and prices remaining unstable but low.

Oversupply of cattle is the main reason for the squeeze, Naman said, and the government must take control of the situation to alleviate a situation which will run more and more cattle producers out of business.

Naman called for strong steps by the government to take care of the oversupply.

He advocated institution of import quotas as only one portion of a multi-pronged approach.

Another approach would be to require that contractors who buy red meat pay a reasonable price to producers, particularly processors who buy for the military or for the school lunch program.

The Farmers Union president said only a handful of large processors are able to bid for the government's business in providing meat for the military and school lunches and the government does not require them to pay an equitable price for the beef they purchase.

"They buy in the market as cheap as they can," he said. "We say there should be certain provisions requiring them to pay a parity price."

In addition, Naman believes the government should accelerate the school lunch program and purchase more and more beef.

The consumer would not suffer from this program, which Naman says would substantially relieve the oversupply situation. Rather, he noted, the valued at $12,250. One tray of men's rings with 50 rings is valued at $4550.

Johnson said the jewel theft was the second in recent months in the eastern portion of the county.

An Amarillo jewelry salesman reported about six months ago that burglars broke into his home at Lake Tanglewood and stole about $40,000 worth of jewelry.

But, Johnson said he feels there is probably no connection between the two burglary efforts. No suspects have been arrested in that burglary.

governmental efforts should be to narrow the spread between what processors pay for beef and what they sell that beef for.

With current beef prices to the producers, Naman said housewives should not be paying more than $1 per pound for round steak and loin steak. Hamburger, he said, should be selling in the grocery for about 50 cents per pound.

"Small processors tell me they're making unconscionable profits," he said.

Naman also called for a government incentive program to urge producers to market light weight heifers rather than heavy beef in an effort to move more and more of the oversupply onto the market.

The future of the industry, Naman believes, depends on the attitude of the Ford administration and the Congress during the next year.

"Congress is going to have to strengthen the farm program or farming will face a serious problem," he said.

Women's Track Team On Road

The West Texas State University women's cross country track team will meet its first foes as Billie McClendon and Trena Burgess travel to Lubbock to compete against Texas Tech in a dual meet Friday. The race will begin at 4:30 and will cover two and a half miles, according to Debbie Bray, coach of the cross country team.

Coach Hal Brown will take the Bowling girls to the Texas Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for women state bowling tournament this week end Nov. 8th and 9th on the campus of Texas A&M University.

"We are as strong as any of the previous teams I have seen. As far as winning the tournament, it will depend upon how we stand up to the pressure. We are a young team but there isn't any question of us being capable of winning it," said Coach Brown.

Bowling for the Buffs will be Susan Cox (184), Cindy Kelley (160), Sharon Files (160), and Regina Hillier (181).

Sherree Rundell, Debbie Gross, and Darla Dittmore will join the rest of the team Nov. 16 as they will bowl in the New Mexico West Texas Recreational Conference which will be held this month at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales. The girls are a strong 11 points in front of second place New Mexico State. The men will also be bowling in the meet and are currently in second place behind New Mexico State. Members of the men's team include Shawn Potter, Jim Files, Harold Jennings, John Tucker, Glenn Lester and Lynn Culpepper.

On Dec. 30th and 31st, the Bowling Buffs will be traveling to Las Vegas to compete in the Arizona State University National Invitational Bowling tournament.

Spook House Was Successful And Fun For All

By DORIS McKEE
A COOL HELLO to all. Seems old man winter is really moving this way. We got to see our first dab of snow Sunday night, but bet we'll be seeing a good bit more before long, now. Well, Halloween is over and so is our Halloween Carnival. Guess it would have to be classed as a big success. The kids really did seem to enjoy it. Things really did jump as the fishing well stayed busy all night. Seemed there was always a line ready and waiting to throw those darts, and a lot of them hit.

Then there was always someone running around with a wet head and an apple in hand. Those kids really did like bobbing for apples.

The spookhouse turned out rather well. Most all made at least one trip through it and we had a few who made several trips. But a couple of kids really did like it, they made about seven trips through. Not to much coffee was sold, but they sure did put away the Witches Brew.

Most everyone came in costume and some of them were just great. The ladies who worked were in costume and rather hard to know until they spoke.

Prizes were awarded to the three best costumes: 1st prize of $3.00 went to Edward Fleming, who made a darling girl; 2nd prize of $2.00 went to Randy Jones, who was a real gone hippy; and 3rd prize of $1.00 went to Roddy Hithfill who looked like a real pirate.

All-in-all it was a great night and I think everyone had fun. I would personally like to thank everyone who helped.

TALKED TO SHARON
Jones on Monday and she is some better and still hoping to get to come home before too much longer. Also, Pat Reed and Pearl West went to visit her last Friday. They said she looked good. We're all still pulling for you, Sharon.

OH YES, DIANA Hoffman and Susan Padgett have decided to become a part of the working society. They went to work Monday morning at Levi on Wash- ington.

Jon Hoffman went back to work at Santa Fe on Tuesday morning. He has recovered nicely from his surgery, but will still have to be careful what he does.

Pat Reed went back to work Monday morning, after being off all last week due to hurting her back when she tripped on the job. Seems it was too soon and she is going to have to be off a few more days.

ALBERT RINNE REALLY made a showing on his fence this weekend. Looks real nice. Albert and Katie keep hoping it will stay pretty long enough for them to get their drive put in and their walks poured. Don't give up you'll get it all done sooner or later.

PEARL AND DALE West had a visit from their son and daughter-in-law, Larry and Donna, and their grandson, Zane, on Sunday night. They came out for a cup of hot chocolate and a short visit.

Seems Eunice and Barney Rinehart had lunch guests last Sunday, Charlotte (their daughter) and Tom McWilliams, Sr. and Mark and Laine.

Also, they had a visit on Friday from Mrs. H.J. Stoner of 3800 Amarillo Blvd. She is the owner of the mobile home park there that Eunice and Barney lived in for 12 years. They had a nice visit.

Bob Rinehart (their son) didn't get to make his usual weekend visit this week, as he flew to Dallas to attend the Jesters Party. He belongs to the Shriners. Eunice said she and Barney will now have a new place to go for a visit. Belanie and Tom McWilliams, Jr. (their grandson) has just been transferred to Albuquerque, N.M. He had better keep an eye on Eunice or she'll get her some skis and take off for the slopes.

ONE LAST ITEM on football. The 5th and 6th grades combined team of Gene Howe played their Toy Bowl game last week. They played Bivins and lost to them by a 13 to 0 score. Roger Robertson, Shannon Jones, and Michael Coffelt played on this team and they really tried hard.

WE DO HAVE at least one boy, Michael Coffelt, taking wrestling. They workout on Mondays and Thursdays. They had their first meet on Sunday. They were in competition against the YMCA team. Michael won his bout on points 19 to 6.

HAVEN'T HEARD YET what kids we have playing basketball, if any. Will find out and see if we can keep up with the season.

I JUST ABOUT have all my Christmas shopping done. I like to get it done as early as possible. Don't know if you realize it or not but it is only 47 more days until Christmas. It will be here and gone before we know it.

WELL, MYSELF AND my family decided to try our luck at Six Flags this weekend. We left Amarillo at 2:00 p.m. Friday and got to Fort Worth at 9:00 p.m. After a night's rest and a good breakfast Saturday morning, we drove out to Arlington and proceeded to Six Flags.

There were lots of people and school kids and church groups there, but it really wasn't too, too crowded. This really is the ideal time of year to go. We spent about five hours riding rides, seeing the shows and having a great time.

After we left Six Flags we drove over to Dallas and went down town Big D. Tod had never been there and he enjoyed seeing the busy life of the people of Big D.

We drove out and looked over the Fort Worth-Dallas Airport. That's really something to look over. We spent Saturday night in Fort Worth and Sunday morning after a good breakfast, we started on our journey back to Siesta.

We made a detour off the beaten route, by going through Wellington and Quail, Texas. I wanted to show Tod and DeAnn where their mother had gone to school and where I had lived.

Boy, things sure were quiet around both places now. It was a very nice drive and sightseeing trip. We got home just ahead of the rain and snow. All-in-all it was a very nice weekend.

GUESS I HAD better sign off for this week. Keep on reading. Thought for this week: "Take time each day to let someone know you really care."

See ya!

Electro-Comp Synthesizer Demonstrated At Club Meet

An Electro-Comp Synthesizer was demonstrated by Dr. Joseph Nelson of the West Texas State University Faculty of Fine Arts for the members of the Sue Hite Federated Study Club, Monday, Oct. 28.

Meeting in the WTSU Fine Arts Building, Dr. Nelson first gave an overview of this fine musical machine. This machine was a gift to the music department by the music fraternity, Phi Mu Alpha, and cost approximately $1500.

Some of the features he brought out were the ways sound could be made more beautiful through amplifiers and filters. He showed the dark sounds of low overtones and the high sounds of bright overtones, and the oscillator generating different tone quality. The keyboard was used as a modifier and also as a producer of graduated voltage. The envelope generators were shown with an attack from nothing to instantaneous.

Dr. Nelson had composed and prepared for presentation on the synthesizer a piece, "Trio Tabuteau," using the oboe and repeating ideas of the teaching technique. Mrs. Donna Wilson, club fine arts department chairman, was in charge of the program.

Mrs. Virginia Allen, club president, presided at the business meeting. Mrs. Edith Priddy explained about the club participation in the state-wide drive for political power. Each club member was asked to call so many registered voters to remember to vote. With all the city clubs participating, it is hoped that at least 75 per cent of the eligible voters in Randall County will vote November 5.

Each club member was asked to begin thinking about a gift exchange item that was created in the manner as gifts for an "old fashioned Christmas," by Mrs. Bonnie Hinger.

Mrs. Della Tolliver, Mrs. Mary Townsend, Mrs. Audrey Jones, and Mrs. Margaret Moore served as the co-hostesses, serving refreshments in the Formal Lounge of the Fine Arts Building.

The November meeting will be a tour of both the Museum Library directed by Mrs. Claire Kuehn, archivist, and the Cornette Library directed by Mrs. Delpha Card, assistant librarian. The Sue Hite Club education department chairman, Mrs. Betty Stoker, is in charge of the program. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Kitty Foster, Mrs. Lenna Parker, Mrs. Edith Priddy, and Mrs. Ada Busteed.

Senior Citizens Tonight

Canyon's Senior Citizens will hold their weekly meeting this evening, Thursday, at 7 p.m. at the Community Center to include a covered dish supper, fellowship and games. All senior citizens are invited to participate in the activities of the group.

Discussing the Bi-Centennial Celebration for Canyon Federated Clubs Monday evening at a dinner affair was Mrs. J. Pat (Jane) Stephens, left, as Mary Lisa McBride, president of the Les Amies Junorette Club, and Mrs. E.E. Perkins, president of the Canyon Federated Council, joined about 80 clubwomen for the evening.

Canyon Woman To Lead Girl Scouting

Carol Evans has been named the president of the Amarillo Council of the Girl Scouts of America.

Mrs. Evans will be responsible for council leadership which involves Girl Scouting activities being conducted in Amarillo, Canyon, Panhandle, Dumas, Sunray, Cactus, Wildorado, Vega and Adrian.

As council president, Mrs. Evans will be a liaison officer between the Amarillo Council and the National Organization of Girl Scouts and will be presiding at the Amarillo Council and Board of Directors meetings. She will be coordinating the work of the council and board and will be official representative for Girl Scouting performing other duties associated with the office.

"I have been associated with scouting for fourteen years," stated Mrs. Evans, who makes her home at 1107 Brookhaven in Canyon with her husband, Bob, and two daughters, Laura and Katherine.

"I started in scouting back when I was Brownie age and followed the scouting activities throughout my schooling," she stated. "And then I started with my girls as a troop leader for six years in the Canyon District before serving as the Amarillo Council's first vice president for two years as a coordinator of all troops involved in the council."

"In scouting," related Mrs. Evans, "our purpose is to inspire the girls with the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism and service so that they become happy, resourceful citizens."

"To accomplish these ideals, scouting provides a wide range of activities developed around the interests and needs of the girls," she concluded.

'Preserving America's Heritage' Topic For Federated Clubwomen

"Preserving our American heritage is the purpose for the celebration of American Bi-Centennial," explained Mrs. J. Pat (Jane) Stephens as guest speaker Monday evening for the Canyon Federated Council of Women's Clubs at their annual dinner held at the Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church.

As a member of the committee, Mrs. Stephens explained the work of the local bi-centennial committee for the clubwomen and noted that four committees are presently working on the bi-centennial. The first committee, headed by Dr. Fred Rathjen, is in charge of recording an oral history of the vicinity for preservation on historical accounts as told by those of the generation succeeding the settlers of the area. She noted that the oral histories are the only funded activities of the committee.

The second committee, headed by Clarence Eugene Thompson, is preserving business records of the city and is also "encouraging and endorsing the restoration of the T-Ancor Ranch."

The Horizons Committee is steering toward activities "beyond 1976" and considerations are now being given by the committee to a sheltered area at the new hospital and further beautification on the WTSU campus, under the guidance of Claire Kuehn, chairman.

Mrs. Stephens, who discussed the actions of fellow committees for the clubwomen, is herself the chairman for the Festival Committee which is working in conjunction with the Canyon Days Celebration committee. Her committee is presently working with 98 community clubs "asking for a presentation of the life-style years gone by for the children of the community through booths where activities of the past can be portrayed."

Approximately 80 members of Canyon's five federated women's clubs were present for the dinner, program by Mrs. Stephens and a musical presentation by the Canyon High School Show Choir.

Mrs. Diane Colgan of Heritage Woman's Club served as mistress of ceremonies for the evening and special guests were members of the Les Amies Junorette Club, which is being newly federated this year for high school girls.

The women's clubs of the Canyon Federated Council include the Sue Hite Club, Woman's Book Club, University Study Club, Canyon Study Club and Heritage Woman's Club who are active clubs in the Top of Texas District of the Texas Federation of Women's Club.

Delta Zeta Sorority Has 'Founder's Day'

The seventy-second year of Delta Zeta sorority was marked with a Founder's Day celebration and luncheon held at Wyatt's Cafeteria in Amarillo Sunday. The Canyon alumnae chapter planned the event and the active chapter members at West Texas State University were guests for the occasion.

Delta Zeta was founded at Miami University Oct. 24, 1902 and has since grown from the original six founders to include 74,000 girls encompassing 300 chapters from across the nation.

Amarillo Mayor L. Ray Vahue designated Sunday, Nov. 3, as Delta Zeta's Founder's Day. Zeta Zeta chapter of Delta Zeta sorority on the campus of WTSU was chartered Nov. 1, 1958 and during the years has credited many honors as a chapter and among the individual members. The DZ national philanthropy is in the field of speech and hearing and the local chapter focused direct attention on the Amarillo Regional Speech and Hearing Center for many projects.

The sorority attributes its growth through the years to the faith and devotion of many members including Rose Williamson Kinzer, who received the "Rose Award" for 50 year service from Delta Zeta. Mrs. Kinzer pledged the Delta chapter of Delta Zeta at the University of Iowa in 1924, where she received her degree in history. Mrs. Kinzer was an active alum in Illinois, Washington, D.C. and Midland-Odessa areas before moving to Canyon. As a member of the DZ alumnae chapter in Canyon, Mrs. Kinzer has been a staunch promoter of scholarships and compilation of the chapter's historical files.

Canyon Woman Home From Trip

Mrs. A. K. Goodman has returned from a three-week trip covering Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska and Colorado.

While in Michigan, Mrs. Goodman went on a foliage color drive with friends to upper Michigan and reports that "the colors were exceptionally good there." She spent time at the National Music Camp at Interlochen Arts Academy where she was told that the former Dr. Houston Bright's music was being used there.

In Wisconsin, she was taken to see the wildlife refuge at Horicon, which is known as the stopping point for Canadian geese during migration to feed before travelling south for the winter. Mrs. Goodman noted that the refuge is an immense marsh as planted in wheat where as many as 150,000 geese stop to feed and gain weight before migrating south.

She also related that the geese, which weigh 6-10 pounds and have a wing spread of 6 feet, also visit the fields of the neighboring farmers while in the area.

While on her trip, Mrs. Goodman was taken to Milwaukee where she saw the famous horticultural conservatories which house both tropic plants and desert plantlife.

Enroute home she visited with relatives in Iowa and Colorado.

Carl Smith Show Slated This Month

Carl J. Smith, Canyon artist whose mist-enshrouded Texas Panhandle scenes have become as familiar to Texans as fellow Canyon painter D. Crow's wistful bluebonnets, will be featured in a one-man exhibit and sale opening Nov. 15 at the Sagebrush Galleries in Amarillo.

About 15 of Smith's latest paintings will be on sale at the exhibition which will hang through Nov. 23 at the Amarillo gallery, located at 4320 45th St. Opening day hours will be from 7 until 9 p.m.

Featured in the show will be signed and numbered Smith prints carrying the title, "So Glad You're Home." About 1000 of these prints have been made, a gallery spokesman said. Also included in the show will be two new Christmas card designs published by the Leannin Tree Publishing Company of Boulder, Colo.

Smith, a longtime Canyon resident, is well known to many private collectors throughout the United States. He is represented in galleries in Houston as well as in the Grand Central Galleries in New York.

GENE HOWE NEWS

By TROYCE MULHERIN
GREETINGS:
THE GENE HOWE executive committee met last week to formulate plans for its annual chili supper. The date for the big event is Nov. 22. Serving hours will be from 5 to 8. This is a Friday night. This nippy weather and chili walk hand in hand, so make plans to attend. Ticket costs will remain as they were last year — $1.25 a ticket for everyone, except preschoolers. Preschoolers will pay a lowly 50 cents at the door.
This year's menu reads like last year's menu. Chili or hot dogs, beans, pie or cake and drink. The coke company cometh! Coffee and/or milk will also be available. Take your choice!

The pies and cakes will again be donated by our Gene Howe patrons. This is a really big evening for Gene Howe and its patrons, so do make plans to attend. Patron or not — everyone is welcome!
***
ANOTHER IMPORTANT DATE for your calendars is Nov. 18th. On this evening, beginning at 7:00, our sixth grade band will present its fall concert! Attendees will be in for a real treat. Guaranteed!

Chili Supper Date Is Set

DR. KEN HART visited the committee meeting and announced the tentative planned courses for the spring semester of the community education program. Scheduled for Gene Howe are classes on Tuesday and Thursday evenings.
Tuesday evenings will find a stretch knit fabric class which will meet from 7 to 9 for eight weeks. There will also be a decorative painting (dig out your oil paints!) class, which will run from 7 to 9 for eight weeks. And, from 7 to 8:30 on Tuesdays, the more physically attuned among us, will be able to enjoy (?) a women's physical fitness class for 10 weeks.

Thursday evenings will find creative types indulging in an oil painting class from 7 to 10 for eight weeks. Guitar pluckers will be doing their thing for 10 weeks from 7 to 8:30. Beginning crochet will be taught for six weeks from 7 to 9.
Plans are presently to begin these classes during the last week of January or about the middle of February. More definite dates will be forthcoming.
Personally speaking, these classes are a heck of a lot of fun! Not only do the "students" learn an awful lot, they meet other people with like interests. The sharing of information (not necessarily directly related to the class subject either) and the fellowship are completely enjoyable. So, try to attend even just one — your presence will be rewarded and rewarding!

grade classes enjoyed full-scale, scary parties. The fourth through sixth grades were treated (or threatened) by a wicked, ugly witch.
As a matter of fact, there were two ugly, wicked witches flying around the rooms. Happen to know that contrary to popular opinion (every other child felt certain that that "lovely" creature was his/her mom) the witchie poo visiting the primary grades just happened to be Evelyn Foster! Lovely she was, too! (That's a lie).
Not sure (that's also a lie) who the other witchie poo was. But, am sure that witch jokes are comparable to Aggie jokes. Am sure, too, that there are more "good sports" at Gene Howe than there could possibly be anywhere else. Charles Dowell ranks in this category.
***
REMEMBER, TOMORROW, THE 8th is a school holiday. So are Nov. 28th and 29th. Thanksgiving time.
***
HAPPY ARE IN store for Mildred Turner as of the 6th. Also, a great big "happy birthday" to Jeff Cates, who celebrates on the 8th!
***
THE STARVING ARTIST Show was a grand success. Best friend and I met and re-met so many interesting and talented people, that we are eager for the upcoming Arts in Action Show to be held at the Civic Center on Nov. 23rd and 24th. Hope to see and visit with you there!

Tough Buff Defense To Get Test Against Tampa's Spartans Sat.

West Texas State University's Buffaloes will be looking this Saturday for an offensive push to match its feisty defense as the Texans go against the Tampa Spartans on Florida turf.

Now holding a 4-4 record for the season, the Buffaloes of Coach Gene Mayfield go into the Tampa outing after a disappointing 9-7 loss last weekend before a homecoming crowd to the Lamar Cardinals.

Tampa took last weekend off and will no doubt be looking for a repeat performance of their 28-6 victory over the Buffs last year.

Even though the Buffalo offense had trouble moving the ball last week, Coach Mayfield is optimistic about the possibility of success this week.

"After looking at the film, I felt better about our offensive effort (against Lamar)," he said. "I think it was just a matter of their good play rather than our bad offense. They played tremendous on the defensive line with good technique, and they run like crazy."

The offense will work from the wishbone again against Tampa, but there's always the possibility a halfback could be moved to flanker.

Even with last week's offensive freeze, several of the Buff backs have good stats. Fullback Johnny Darden is top rusher with 437 yards, Eddie Richardson has gained 366, Ricky Rice has 263 and Tully Blanchard has 229.

The key to the Spartan attack is Quarterback Fred Solomon, who's accounted for 52 percent of the Spartan offensive total of 3066 yards with 936 yards rushing and 659 passing.

In the latest NCAA statistics, Solomon stood fourth in total offense, ninth in rushing, second in scoring with 100 points in 16 touchdowns and two 2-point conversions. The rushing offense as a whole stands 11th in the nation with Solomon joined by Morris LaGrand with 517 yards and Andy Kuchmanor with 333 in the starting backfield.

The Buffs will utilize their effective 4-3 defense against the Tampans with Tackle Floyd Jones leading the pass rush to try to stop Solomon.

The Spartan defense has racked up its own impressive record on the national books. They are ranked ninth in rushing defense with an average allowance of 125.1 yards per game. Tackle Ervin Smith and linebacker Greg Pittman are the standouts on the unit.

Solomon frankly has Mayfield worried.

"We might worry more about Solomon when he goes back to throw and then decides to run," he said. "He has tremendous reflexes and that makes him a darting-type runner. He's a heckuva athlete."

The bright point in the Buffalo defense may be questionable this week, too, to add to Mayfield's woes.

Middle Linebacker Bruce Davis, who had four unassisted tackles and 13 assists against Lamar last week, suffered a deep thigh bruise in the fourth period of that game and is a doubtful starter against Tampa.

Reserve defensive tackle Bob Johnson will be out for the remainder of the year with a broken jaw and tight end Keith Oxley is suffering a possible broken ankle.

While the Tampa outing will be another in a long mid-season series of non-conference contests for the Buffs, West Texas hangs in the top of the league.

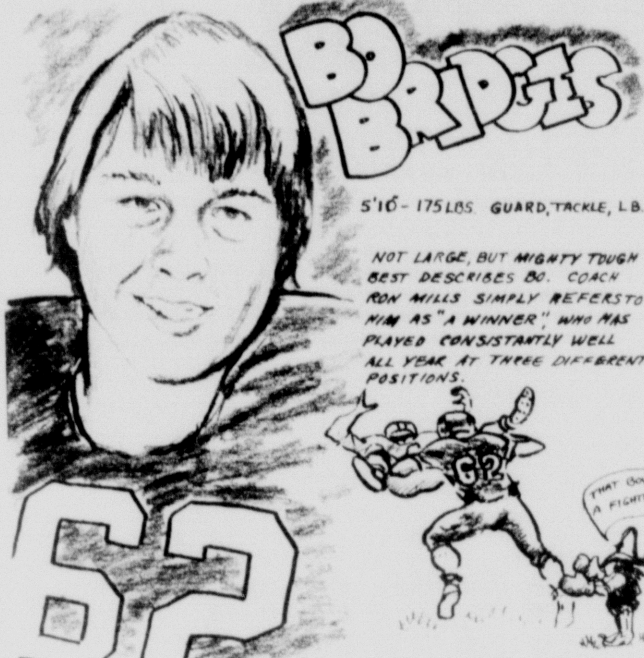

The Buffs moved from fourth to second in the MVC race after last weekend's action. Tulsa beat Louisville 37-7 to clinch a tie for the league title. West Texas, New Mexico State and Louisville all possess 2-2 MVC records and Drake is in there also with a 2-2-1. Tulsa's 4-0 mark leads the Valley with North Texas in sixth at 1-3-1 and Wichita State is seventh at 1-4.

Final home game for the Buffs will be the following weekend when North Texas comes to Kimbrough Memorial Stadium here.

Twenty West Texas State University athletes were honored this week by being named to the Missouri Valley Conference Honor Roll for the 1973-74 school year.

Heading the list of WT athletes is Bill Marsh, the Buffalo tennis whiz who graduated last spring with a sparkling 3.985 grade average (on a 4.0 scale) in pre-med. Marsh will enter medical school next fall.

Next in line was Ben Bentley, now a senior defensive end on the Buff football team. The Panhandle native owns a 3.775 average in his business studies.

"We are extremely proud of our 20 athletes who were named to the Missouri Valley Conference academic honor roll," Athletic Director Gene Mayfield lauded. "This is one of many examples to dispel the time-worn cliché that athletes are not good students."

Each of the West Texas State varsity sports during the 73-74 school year were represented on the list. Basketball, football, and tennis each had five men honored, track had four and golf one.

Here is the breakdown by sports:

Basketball — Dana Albright (3.382, physical education); John Hayes (3.548, pre-dental); Larry Jarzombek (3.010, mathematics); Bryan Kendrick (3.426, accounting); Mark Wible (3.323, history).

Football — Ben Bentley (3.775, business); Stan Lowrance (3.400, pre-dental); Mike McVay (3.125, physical education); Ricky Rice (3.576, political science); Chip Van Pelt (3.516, art).

Tennis — Dana Caledonia (3.593, pre-dental); Jay Goss (3.911, pre-law); Brett Hall (3.085, finance); Bill Marsh (3.985, pre-med); Dale Corbin (3.181, chemistry).

Track — Wayne Cure (3.133, nursing); Charles Haddad (3.402, business); Jay Jones (3.609, agriculture); Allen Walker (3.169, English).

Golf — Richard Wolfe (1.03).

Eagles Will Own Crown, If Muleshoe Succumbs

The district title is on the line Friday night for the Canyon Eagles, who are now leading their conference, but who will be tested by an experienced Muleshoe Mule team on the road.

For the Eagles of Coach Ron Mills, the trip to Muleshoe could also be the first step on their trip to the bi-district play-offs.

Mills said this week that a win over Muleshoe will ensure the Eagles a berth in the play-off games. The title will be their's even though they will still lack one district game — one against Levelland. Levelland has already lost two district outings.

If the Eagles can pull it off, the district win will be the first for the Canyon team since 1971. That year, the Eagles lost a heart-breaking bi-district game to Andrews after tying the South Texas team 21-21. The tie-breaker was a penetration lead given Andrews.

Injuries remain the big problem for Mills as he prepares his charges for the Friday night meeting.

After persevering through a tough AAAA schedule at the first of the season, though, the Eagles are breathing a sign of relief to retain AAA opponents.

The AAAA schedule has taken its toll in injuries for the Canyon team.

At least three starters are questionable for the Friday night roster after last weekend's outing against Perryton. Elliot Berry, left defensive end, Ronnie Howell, a sophomore linebacker, and Adrian Foil, a senior half-back, all suffered injuries last weekend.

Mills said it appears all three will be out for the Muleshoe game. Berry and Howell have suffered sprained ankles and Foil suffers a deep bruise.

Bo Bridges, a 175-pound senior guard, will probably see action both ways against the Mules as he fills in at Howell's position. Jonathan Hull, a standout junior varsity player will come up to varsity for the game to take over the linebacker position. Craig Johnson, who's seen action in other outings this season, will replace Foil in the backfield.

While the defense is hurting with injuries, Mills said he has a healthy offense, led by Quarterback Garre LaGrone.

While the injury list may lengthen, the Eagles' spirits are high, Mills reports, particularly with the trying AAAA schedule behind them.

"I hope we're not over confident," Mills worried this week. "This will be the most important game so far."

The Mules sport a dismal record this season, but still could be a tough club with many starters returning from last year's club, Mills said. He said they have a strong defense manned by big players.

The Eagles will be watching tackle Dusty Davis, a 6-4, 240-pounder, and they'll be setting against a defensive down four which averages 220-pounds per player.

Quarterback Kerry Suddeth, an experienced field general, will probably be seeking out receiver Jeff Skipworth for his aerials.

The Mules run the Houston veer and from the I formation.

CHS Girls Begin Games In B-Ball Nov. 15

The Canyon High School Girl Eagles will begin play November 15 when they travel to Phillips High School to play the top rated Phillips girls.

The following night they will travel to Claude to take on a team that should place near the top in their district.

According to Bob Schneider, head girls basketball coach at CHS, these two teams along with the pre-district schedule should give his girls an opportunity to learn much prior to the beginning of district play January 21.

Presently, there are 44 girls vying for positions on the sophomore, junior varsity and varsity teams at CHS. Fifteen are competing for starting roles on the varsity. Only two are returning from last year's winning ball club. Robena Johnson will be the only starter that will be returning. Denise Hamblin, a letterman, will return at the guard end of the court.

The remaining 13 vying for varsity roles will come from 13 girls brought up this year from the ninth grade or junior varsity squad.

Robena Johnson will be at the post position offensively for the girls team this year. Others hoping for forward positions are Louis Davis, Brenda Stephens and Cary Camfield.

Two sophomores are working hard and according to Schneider, if they continue to improve, may gain a starting berth. The sophomores are Deedy Johnson, Becky Williams and Pam Wollsey.

Schneider stated that he is not yet sure who will be starting on either defense or offense at this early date.

At the guard position, Schneider is looking at Denise Hamblin, Penny Peckenpaugh, Marcy Davis and Polly Crawford. He stated that the guards are looking better at each work out.

Others hoping for a guard position are Janet Sluder, Cheryl Brown, Rene McDonald and Lisa Cathey.

Lisa Cathey is hoping for either a forward guard slot as she is capable of either position according to Schneider.

Schneider stated that the six sophomores who are presently on the varsity are the most he has had to date. He said that the team has been working twice a day since October 15 in preparation for the season. Improvement is needed according to the coach. He said that lack of experience may damage the efforts of the squad this year, but he hopes that they will gain the needed experience from preseason games and tournaments.

Schneider stated that the team was working hard and responding well.

Height will be another disadvantage for the team this year. He stated that the team will have to rely on good hard-nose defense in order to hold down the scoring of the opponents. Keeping people off the boards will be another object of the team.

The team will begin the season without any scrimmage games as in the past.

The first two games for the girls will be a real test according to their coach. Schneider stated that Phillips has a six feet three inch post girl and Claude has a six feet tall girl and a five feet 10 inch girl that must be contained.

Talkin' Music With Gaston'n' Guitar — A Cordial Visit, Indeed

By ANN MELIN

Mighty hard to write about a fella who does his most eloquent talking when his fingers start walking up and down the finger board of his guitar.

"Awww, I ain't really no musician," 63-year-old Otis Gaston confesses with disarming candor. But hardly had this reporter sat down with the retired West Texas State University custodian and his wife when the former hauled out his guitar and amplifier ("Now don't worry, I ain't agoin' to turn it up too loud") and began exercising chords the likes of which many never figured dwelt within the guts of the instrument.

"You see, hon' (that's Southern talk, everybody's hon' to me, hon'), I been playin' music practically since I was born. My parents were both musicians and we had a five-piece family band. I started out on mandolin when I was seven — stood on a bucket and played with the rest. Started playin' guitar at twelve."

"Yea, and we'd play for private parties and (I'm ashamed to say) for dances. But mostly we played for our own enjoyment. Once or twice a week we'd get together for a regular jam session. Ohhhh... we had some times, I tell you!"

Gaston and his wife hail from Webb, Miss., but "we like to tell folks we're from Clarksdale 'cause that's close to Webb and they're more likely to have heard that name before," Mrs. Gaston explains.

After a lifetime of farming in Mississippi, Gaston and his wife moved west to Texas 16 years ago. Original plans were for the couple to work in Canyon for a spell and then return to farmlife in the Delta country. But the Gastons took a great liking to the Texas Panhandle and its people.

"Oh, my, it's simply the difference between daylight 'n' dark!" Gaston exclaims, comparing Canyon to the place of his birth.

The rigid class barriers existing in Southern society seemed to be totally missing but not missed in Texas Panhandle life, the couple said, and the rule of order seemed to be that "it doesn't matter what you do for a livin' just so long as it's honest and respectable."

Hardly had the couple arrived and Gaston assumed duties as custodian at Terrill Hall when he was already busy establishing musical contacts.

It was a matter of hearing a student in the dormitory going away at it on a piano or guitar and then strikin' up a conversation about music-making or simply asking, "Say, mind if I make a stab at playin' that guitar?" More than likely the obliging student who rendered up his instrument to Gaston's deft fingers was in for quite a chordial session.

"That's one of the reasons we built this extension to the house," Mrs. Gaston explains. "At times we might have seven or eight boys from the University in here playin'."

Practically run the neighbors off with all the noise. At first, Gaston and his fellow local and student musicians would go down to the basement of the old Education Building for their jam sessions. That was before he located and bought an upright piano. Gaston doesn't play himself. Neither does his wife, save for a few chords. The piano was bought just for whoever might be sittin' in at the keyboard on any given evening.

Gaston doesn't go in much for talking about the days when he used to play the nightclubs and "hunky-tunks" of Louisiana, Tennessee, and Mississippi.

What he calls the "country music racket" is a mean sort of life to his way of thinking and he says he doesn't regret not making a career of his talents, but rather developing them purely for his own enjoyment. His wife agrees that the life of a professional musician just doesn't provide the ideal circumstances for family life.

Listening to good music seems to be just about as pleasurable for Gaston as making it. His wife laughs when she thinks of the night she and her husband went to hear Chet Atkins ("That's Otis' idol") play at the Tri-State Fair one year.

"There were these two snooty little ole ladies sittin' in front of us. Well, when Chet Atkins struck up, Otis just about went crazy, clapping and yelling. Those two women just turned around and looked at him with the most horrified expressions, thinkin' he was dead drunk or something!"

"Oh, but I do love good music!" Gaston chimes in. "I'm just mighty thankful to the good Lord for givin' me the talent to play as good as I do. You know, I once asked Him to give me the talent to pick up a Chet Atkins tune and play kinda along the same style as he does. And he give it to me—listen to this:"

Gaston's guitar takes over the interview for a few minutes, energetically expounding about the way things were "Back Home in Indiana."

"I have to admit, tho' I ain't braggin' or nuthin', that I got a real good ear. Can't read music a'tall. But I reckon I've taught many a fella how to play guitar. Like my brother-in-law, now he plays rings around me."

Gaston credits "two blind guys" he used to play with back in Mississippi with bequeathing him a bag of new chords and interesting musical tricks. That was back in the 1930's and 40's, he says. One of the men, blind from birth, was proficient on 17 different instruments. The other, who went blind at age 19, was able to hold his own on 26 different instruments.

"Oh, I tell you, that Louray Martin could just eat up a piano. And a tenor guitar — well he could just tear it up. I heard a professional play once on the S.S."

Weis Son Born On November 4

Mr. and Mrs. Harland Weis announce the November 4 birth of a son, Ty Brandon, who weighed 6 pounds 2 ounces and measured 19 inches in length on arrival at Neblett Memorial Hospital in Canyon.

The infant's father is employed with Affiliated Foods in Amarillo and majors in business at West Texas State University in Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Castleman of Canyon are the maternal grandparents and Leslie Weis of Friona is the paternal grandfather. Great-grandparents include Leonard Proctor of Lampasas and Mrs. Rebecca Weis of Friona.

HEROs Sell Candy

The HERO (Home Economics Related Occupations) Club began a sale of candy throughout the city early this week in an effort to raise funds needed for an Employer-Employee Banquet to be held next spring.

The chocolate almond bar candies are being sold for $1.30.

Visiting with Mrs. Theresa Root recently were her sisters, Mrs. Alvina Chilcott of Wisner, Neb. and Mrs. Tom Harbert of Dumas. Also visiting was a niece of Mrs. Root's, Mrs. Johnnie West and son of San Angelo, and Mrs. Jesse Hooper and daughters of Canyon.

President and he didn't hold a candle to Martin."

With his customary humility, Gaston defers credit often to his fellow musicians. He has a good deal of respect for the back-up players who keep the beat. Sort of along the same lines, he seems to take pride in talking about (and displaying) the pacemaker that was implanted in his chest last October.

"Now the way it works, if my heart quits beatin', well this here pacemaker takes over. When my heart starts up again, well the pacemaker shuts off and my heart takes it away."

Searchin' for lost chords comes easy for Gaston. The hard part, he says, is finding words to go along with the tunes of his own composing that he's 'always comin' up with on his guitar."

"Know of anybody who might be able to write a line or two for this one? I just call it 'Dreamy Lullaby' 'cause I was in sort of a dreamy mood when I composed it."

Again, Gaston falls silent, stares his listener in the face, and lets the guitar handle the conversing for a while.

"Or this one that I call 'Hawaiian Tune.' Just a simple piece but it's got some nice stuff in it. Some sevenths, ninths, diminished chords."

Again, the rich, full twang of the guitar reverberates through the room.

"Say, you reckon you might be able to write some lyrics for these songs? (The question was directed to the reporter). Just let me play this 'Dreamy Lullaby' once again for you."

Again, Gaston hunches over his guitar, lettin' his fingers do the talking. His wife looks on smilingly. They've been married 38 years now, Gaston says. He used to consider himself a romantic, but love over the years changes. Gets better and better, to his way of thinking.

"Say, you know, Otis," his wife looks up suddenly from her coffee cup. "I got those poems I wrote when we first met. Reckon we might be able to fit them up with that music?"

Otis Gaston

Jennings On State Board To Certify Fighters

Canyon Fire Chief Jack Jennings returned from Austin this week after participating in the establishment of a Texas Volunteer Firemen's Certification Board, the first of its kind in the state.

Jennings is one of 12 representatives of volunteer fire departments in the state to be named to the newly-formed board, which will set standards for certification of volunteer firemen.

He said the board has established a certification minimum of 160 training hours for volunteers, training which could require as many as five years to complete.

More than 20 guidelines for training for volunteer fire units were also handed down as part of the certification effort, he said.

Firemen on paid fire departments are already required to be certified under a state agency, Jennings said, and they must meet 350 hours of training to be certified.

The new certification program goes into effect Jan. 1.

Already, Canyon's volunteer department has 24 members certified, having completed the 160 hours of training or having served five years in volunteer status. Jennings said one clause of the certification code allows firemen who've served five years to gain immediate certification.

Purpose of the new program, the fire chief said, is to ensure proper training for smaller fire departments. The certification is not mandatory under state law, but is offered as an incentive for volunteer departments to upgrade their units and manpower.

Former Resident Dies In Crash

Bobby Wayne Crittenden, 23, who formerly resided in Canyon during the early 1970s and bartered during that time at Buffalo Barber Shop while a student at West Texas State University, was killed in a single engine plane accident near the Shallowater Airport, 12 miles northwest of Lubbock, Sunday, Nov. 3.

Crittenden, who had received his pilot's license only two weeks before, was piloting the plane when it crashed in a muddy field after an attempted landing. Also killed in the mishap were passengers, Larry Wigginton, 24, Chipper Lee Joyner, 24, and Joyner's wife, Amy. All of the dead were from Littlefield, Texas.

Forensics Team Wins In Tourney

The West Texas State Forensics team traveled to Colorado Springs, Colorado on October 25-26 to win fifth place in sweepstakes at the Annual Pikes Peak Forensics Tournament. The WTSU team competed against 36 colleges and universities from ten states.

Three of the four debate teams advanced to quarter-finals, with the team of Jay Kirkman and Donna Smith placing third in Junior Debate, Marla Rupp and Judy Koenig placing fifth in Junior Debate and Mike Koenig and Garrell Forehand placing fifth in Senior Debate.

In individual events, Miss Rupp advanced to the finals in Senior Interpretation and placed third in Senior Oratory. Miss Smith advanced to the finals in Senior Extemporaneous Speaking.

The team will travel to the University of Kansas on November first and second to compete in debate and individual events.

Happy News

By MARY NEAL HENRY
HAPPY JAYCEE-ETTES
 HOSTED the first 4-H Decision Making Contest in Happy last year. This year's date is Nov. 9 at 2 p.m. in the Happy School cafeteria. Five counties were invited to participate.

At least 10 classes, both edible and other items, will be judged by these participants. Parents are invited to also judge. (For their own benefit, I believe. We don't always want everyone to know how smart we are).

MELVIN SCHAEFFER is home from the hospital after open heart surgery. Melvin and Coleen returned home on Saturday. Sunday, they had lots of family home, both children and their families and Coleen's sister from Bartlesville.

Copus Boyd has been released from St. Anthony's hospital and allowed to go to an Amarillo residence, that of Ola Rice. Copus and Acie Del should be home next week.

THE FIRST UNITED Methodist Church had a Spook House and Halloween party on Wednesday evening. Twenty-five cents admitted you to all the terrifying horrors of the Spook House and then everyone had fun in the church basement dunkin' for apples, cake walking, and etc.

Happy Jaycee-Ettes held a Halloween party for their families on Halloween night in the Happy Jaycee Hall. They dunked for apples, potato raced, balloon race and played Stuff the Turkey. A fishing pond delighted the children. Treat bags were given each child and refreshments of punch, cookies and popcorn balls were served everyone.

The costume parade is one of the annual highlights of the evening. This year, Jeana Stockett won the cutest award. Jeana was a very young "fat" (stuffed, mummy), won the most original. Danny Venhaus as Count Dracula won the scariest. Each won a stuffed cat for their prize. Judges this year were Jeannie Miller and Frances Flaherty.

Fathers carve pumpkins each year. They work in teams of two and a prize is awarded the best pumpkin. This year's winners are George Tiley and Ronnie Johnson. I know that they have won the contest before, but I can't remember if they hold the title or not.

An "old man and old lady" visited the party during the evening. Seems as if they just came in and looked around and it was difficult to figure out who both were.

WAYSIDE HELD A Halloween party on Saturday evening before Halloween in their community building. They had cake walks and '42 — a family affair.

HAPPY COWBOYS BEAT Lazbuddie 20 to 2 on Friday evening. Then the boys and their dates were entertained with a party in the Lonnie Todd home by the seniors' parents. They were served sandwiches, chips and dips, soft drinks, and cake. The cake was orange with chocolate frosting and had each of the Happy Cowboys' names on it. According to J. T., it was very, very good. They played ping pong and other games during the evening.

HAPPY WRANGLERS BEAT Nazareth 50 to 6 Tuesday afternoon at Happy Cowboy stadium. Kaphe Shipman crossed the goal line for two touchdowns as did Vincent Ray Venhaus and Vance Morrison. Doug Sims, and Donnie McKelvey each scored once.

Junior high was entertained with a party after this game in the Happy Jaycee Hall. Parents served sandwiches and chips, cake and punch. They enjoyed ping pong, pool and music.

CATHY PARKER WAS elected FTA president of this district in the meeting in Canyon on Tuesday. Cathy is the daughter of Faye and Foster Parker and the granddaughter of Lenna Parker of Canyon and Omalee Lowry of Wayside.

Cathy was also First Runner-Up for Miss FTA which is a speaking contest. Becky McCarley is the district's nominee for a state office and will run in February at the state meeting. Mrs. Sherry Walker is the sponsor for the Happy group.

OUR SYMPATHY TO Claude and Clarence Todd on the death of their sister, Virdie Cowan of Tulsa. Mrs. Cowan, 80, died Friday morning in the Tulsa Nursing home. Services were held Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church of Tulsa and burial was in Rose Hill Cemetery. Other survivors include three sons, two daughters and a sister.

OUR SYMPATHY TO the John Butler family in the loss of John's brother-in-law. John recently flew to Mississippi to be with his family during this time.

SHERRI STARKEY WON third place in pole bending in the Amarillo Tascosa Tri-State High School Rodeo. Several from

4-Hers Making Decision

Happy attended that rodeo. Terry Knox, a nephew of Gale Null, won third place in the calf roping.

Dennis Bell and Hoyt Turner, my little Canyon High friends, won the bareback riding at the Tascosa Tri-State High Rodeo. Dennis won first and Hoyt tied for second/third place. Congratulations! Both these boys ride for Tascosa and helped Tascosa win that boys' team trophy.

HAPPY ARTIST MET Monday evening at Zelma's Art Shop in Happy. Ann Palmer of the Little Gallery in Canyon demonstrated water color on wood with pen and ink accent and water color on cardboard.

During the business sessions, plans were made for their Arts in Action Booth at the Civic Center on Nov. 23 and 24 (President Ernestine Danner will also have a booth), and the Christmas Tea held in the school cafeteria on Dec. 8. The Christmas Tea is an annual event that whole area looks forward to.

Members attending were Ernestine Danner, Cathy Moudy, Curley Selvidge, Peggy Bell, Aline Adams, Paula Harms, Joy Cox, Ruth Maynard, Ollie Nichols, Carolyn Kimbrell, and Mary Womack.

JANA BOWE, 12 year old granddaughter of Ernestine and Vido Danner and Maude Bowe (daughter of Sue and Darrell) were presented a belt buckle at the Harris County 4-H Achievement Banquet recently for having been in the top 10 in judging.

THE NEIGHBORS ON the east side of town will hold a welcome party for Mrs. Don (Belinda) Goode, the new resident of the house that formerly belonged to the J.C. Malones.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Hazelwood and their pre-schooler, Charlie, have moved into the house that formerly belonged to the Lee Moores.

T.J. and Eula Bonds are completing plans to move to the Mrs. George Woods, Sr., home in town. They will finally live on the pavement.

AND HAPPY BIRTHDAY today, Trisha Lou Hargrave. Several young ladies will be helping her celebrate.

DEBBIE AND JOHN Moroney of Yucan, Okla. spent the week end with Joan and Reed McDonald. Donna McDonald was also home. On Sunday the family had a birthday dinner for Debbie (21) and included Bob and Linda McDonald and their Ronnie and David and Jettie and Amos Ratjen of Tulsa.

THE WOMEN'S STUDY Club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Joyce Wheat. Mrs. Simon Elliott served as co-hostess. They served refreshments of cherry pudding and coffee or tea.

Mrs. Willard Middleton was program chairman for the day. Their program for this year is the "Emerging Woman." Roll call was answered with "What Is Women's Lib?" The program was a panel of Mrs. Dick Rallsback, Mrs. Hobart McManigal, Mrs. Mildred Middleton, and Mrs. Eugene Sims.

HAPPY BOOSTER CLUB met Tuesday in the Happy School in room #6. The film was very good. Sandwiches and chocolate were served to a good attendance. The season ends with the game in Nazareth tonight at 7:30 p.m. The game is being played on Thursday evening because there is no school on Friday — teachers' meeting.

HAPPY CHAPTER #562, Order of the Eastern Star, met this week for a business meeting and to hear the report of the Grand Chapter of Texas by Lola Bowe. Mrs. Bowe represented Happy at the recent state meeting in Houston held in the Astrodome. The funniest part of the report was that about the Astrodome's leaking. Refreshments were served by Pauline Wesley and Dora Ratjen. Joan McDonald and Billie Pearson were also on the refreshment committee.

DEBBIE MAGNESS LOST her 1975 senior ring from Happy High. It was lost from the dressing room last week. It has a blue stone and the initials "D.A.M." on the inside of the ring (Deborah Ann Magness). Debbie is heart broken and Mary Ann and Don Magness are offering a reward for the ring.

GRAND CROSS OF Color held their annual Mystic Banquet Nov. 9 at the Masonic Lodge.

4-H MEETS THIS Monday evening, Nov. 11, at the Happy Jaycee Hall at 7 p.m.

SUNNYHILL HOME DEMONSTRATION Club meets this morning with Barbara Danner, 9:30.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE of Texas CowBelles held a meeting on Monday afternoon in Tulsa. This committee decided to invite the 1975 officers to meet with them in December. I also invited the incoming president to preside.

Tuesday, I was the guest of the Bovina CowBelles, Outstanding Texas Local, for luncheon and business meeting in the home of Mrs. Durwood Bell. Fern is a lovely, gracious hostess and has a beautiful home. I met many Bovina CowBelles and prospects and among those present was Lou Nuttall, editor of the Bovina Blade.

Today, I meet with TAP (Texas Agriculture Products), at 10:30 a.m. in the new Stephen F. Austin building in Austin. TAP hopes to promote gift certificates of meat, dairy and poultry products for Christmas. I reported to Mr. Baisden that this would fit right in line with Texas CowBelles' newest project, BEEF GIFT CERTIFICATES.

First State Bank in Happy already has their BEEF GIFT CERTIFICATES printed and now have them for sale. These are suitable gifts for any occasion — showers, Christmas, birthdays, anniversaries. Purchase them at your bank and redeem them in any grocery or meat market — for BEEF. Canyon's First National and West Texas State Banks may soon have these same services — just as soon as I get to talk with them.

THE HAPPY COW-BELLES Installation is next Wednesday, Nov. 13th, at the Hilton Inn. See you there! (We are having beef).

And see you at the football game at Nazareth — although it will be a long way for me to get there.

See ya!
 Mary Neal
